

Terms and Conditions of Use

1. Readers of this website are permitted to reproduce, retransmit or archive for personal use any data, image, or other product from this site. Exceptions to this condition: Use of data, images or other product from this site may not be reproduced or retransmitted on another website without the written permission of the WLPOA.
2. The WLPOA makes no express or implied warranties regarding any information contained in the site and assumes no liability to the website user for any error occurring in the creation or transmission of this information. The website user assumes all responsibility and risk for the use of this site. The WLPOA, its employees (volunteer or paid) are not liable for any damage of any kind arising from the use of this site (direct or indirect).
3. All Contacts (Advertisers, Links, etc.) must be in compliance with all Bylaws, Standing Rules and Covenant requirements of both the WLPOA and WLRM&S in order to be represented on the website.